City launches revised public input process for the Greater Observatory Mesa Trail Plan Draft

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz – The City of Flagstaff is revising the public input process for the Greater Observatory Mesa Draft Trail Plan. As part of the revised process, City staff will schedule additional meetings with adjacent neighborhoods and stakeholders to allow for in-depth discussions on initial feedback. The current survey on the Flagstaff Community Forum site will be closed and previously announced public meetings will be rescheduled to a later date. An updated version of the draft plan will then be shared with the public for review and feedback.

All comments received to date on the draft plan will be reviewed and carried forward. The City greatly values all feedback received to date.
